Tuart Hill

Do you have an eye for quality?

The owner has agreed to release another of these high quality villas to the market. This may be the last one we sell in this group as his sales quota has already been reached.

If you are fed up with tiny villas then the fact we are offering 185sqm building inclusive of garage (149sqm of internal living space) may be pretty exciting. The generosity in living is evident in the kitchen, living area, bedrooms and additional storage space.

Impressive beyond others on the market is the words on everyone's lips and is probably why the other one sold very quickly. With Caesar Stone bench tops, solid timber flooring and a build quality that others aspire to but never quite reach I too can see why.

Intelligently designed with their own street frontage you will have all the benefits of separate titles and no common ground without the huge gardens to maintain. Now complete the quality will be obvious at first glance.

Within walking distance of Main street cafe strip, local deli and royal street bus services.

Call now to arrange a look inside.
