Dual key NRAS opportunity, like finding hens teeth

Twice the Federal Government incentives, twice the cashflow as for most this will likely be cash positive over $300 per week. This may be the best residential investment you'll see this year. Consider this:

- Federal Government have announced cancelling any further rounds of NRAS approvals all existing approved dwellings will be in high demand in the future
- Because it is dual key you get over $200,000 from the government and double the rent this property will be highly positive geared. For your potential neighbours it was in excess of $300 per week. What will it do for you?
- Unique design makes these a very attractive affordable living opportunity both now and in the future
- Mixed use zoning providing for commercial use in the future once the ten years of NRAS benefits have finished.
