Your friends will be green with envy

We are at the finish line and the only thing more exciting than being here is seeing the eyes light up in our happy clients when they see what we've brought out of the ground. With only one week to go before they are fully cleaned and ready to move in and three sold time is escaping you.

One week to go. The owners are so happy with how this development has turned out they are seriously considering keeping some of them so i can only guarantee one more unit at this stage for sale however which one in the group you may be able to chose.

With the new hospital, Curtin University and regional police station being built in neighbouring Midland over the next few years i believe your unit value will increase significantly benefiting from these capital works projects that are well and truly advanced.

Owning a prestige and secure apartment in a prominent location that has very low strata fees is something that many in this region have tried to emulate but only a few have achieved. Here it has definitely happened.

Call me today to meet on site, i can even show you the display unit in a sold out complex so that you can take comfort in the finished product.
