Bullsbrook

Bring your green thumb, the rest is all class,...

The kitchen will make the boss happy with Stone benches. A clever design with a very open and abundant living space means you'll never feel left out just because you chose to make sure the guests didn't go hungry.

At the front of your new home there's a space for the sports watcher. Movies too if you like the volume of your surround sound high as it's quite separate to the other bedrooms, so not much chance the kids will be disturbed.

If you're keen on spreading out in spaces that let you express yourself in every room, then this oversized 4brm 2bth home may fill your void.

Out back there's an Alfresco under the main roof and of course the opportunity for you to throw your creativity at the garden.

Call to see inside to determine if it's yours for the taking.
